Production News

- Lots more people – almost everyone is here for the season now.
- PLR's will go up now Connie and Michael are back and Mark has someone to do PLR's with, as I was writing this I got the following message

A screenshot of a text message bubble. The bubble is white with a thin grey border and is set against a background with a repeating pattern of small, light-colored icons (like a camera, a lightbulb, a tree, and a rocket). The text inside the bubble is "Mark & I closed out the day together." in a black, sans-serif font.

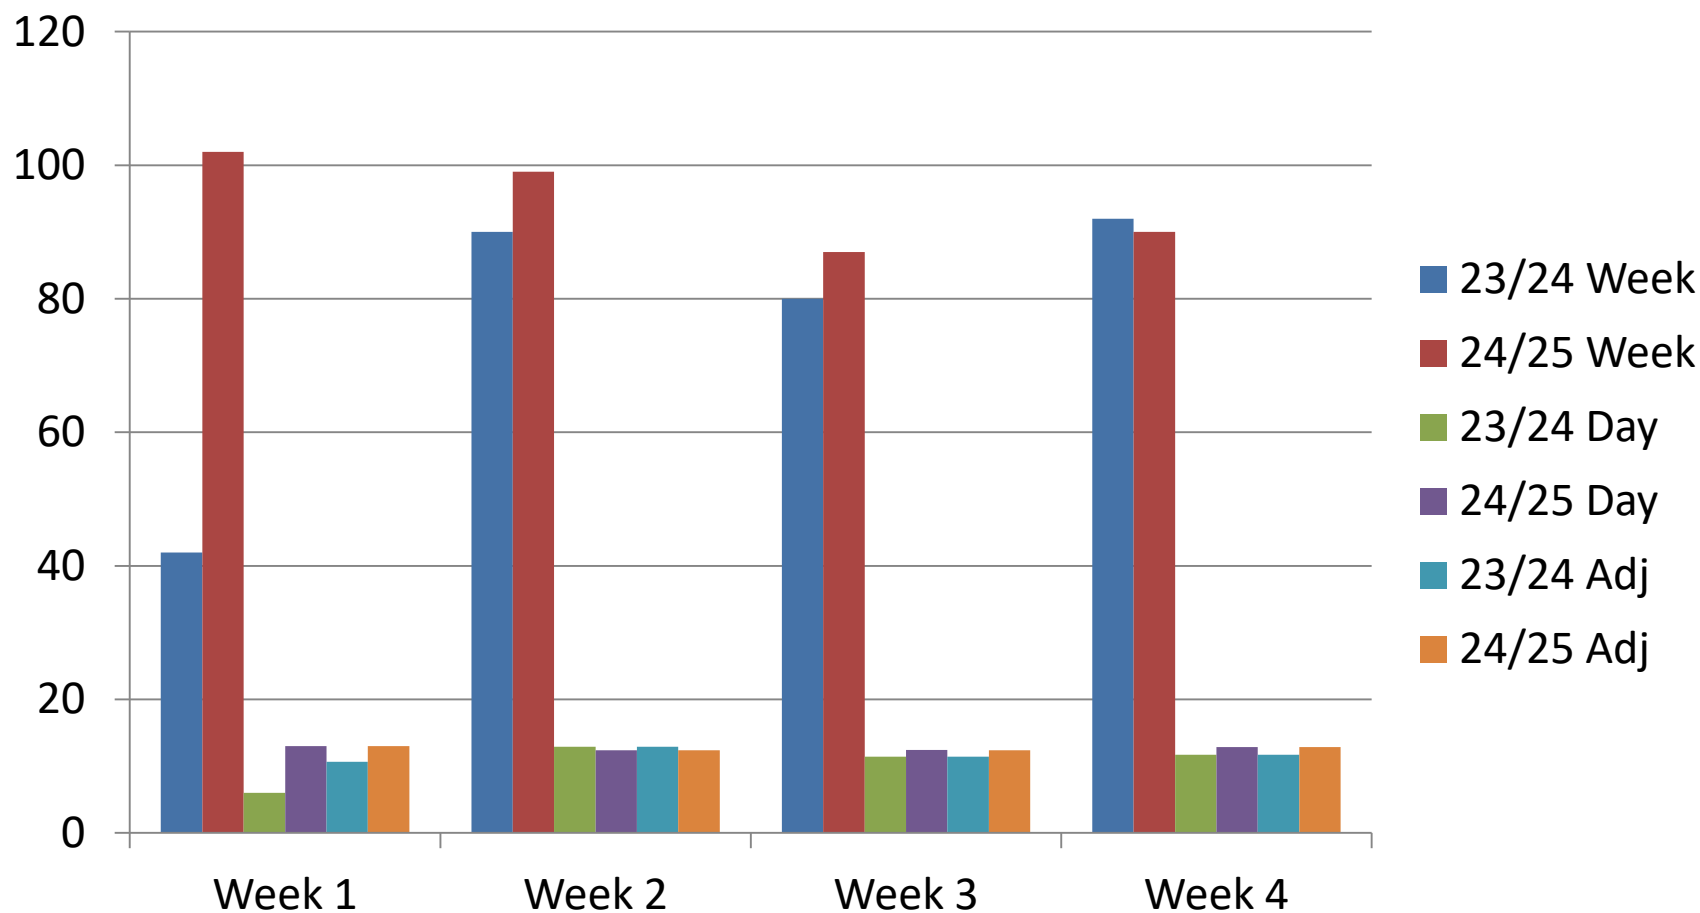

Mark & I closed out the day together.

And Now to the Awards

- FoF – Cyndy reclaimed the award – she still has it
- 6 falls this week
- Anna and Alexi – both double ejects on Barracuda – Anna hasn't skied since 2001 – that might just count as a mitigating factor different skis, different boots, no skiing for 23 years – even I might cut some slack for that. But don't tell Mark

Chairlift Chatter

- So what has everyone been talking about?
  - Belly Flops??? Not in the snow
- Cowboy hats and cowboy boots
- Chris' value statement which has his per day cost of his pass down less than $4 per day, goal $1 or less a day

Thoughts for the week

- New acronyms
- OOW (Out of wheelhouse – not in their comfort zone) Best said loudly on a lift
- PPP – Petes perfect poach – missed it last week
- PRC – No not Peoples Republic of China – Poor Run Choice
- PCR – Post Coffee Run
- PLC – poor life choice
- If you are bringing Angel home do not use the car heat and seat heaters are definitely forbidden
- “Lets do something different why don’t we do the Waitman Warm up” heard on the hill this week

Notable week

- Christmas day first Timber Chair, first White Pass chair
- Lots of family and hangers on
- Where do we put 'incidents' slipping off a T-bar
